

Benefits of the Bioenergetic Wellness System

Scanning Software

- Returns a personalized, recommended protocol to support the body's functions and optimal wellness.
- Comprehensive assessments rendered in seconds.

miHealth

- Skin impedance measurements and TCM-inspired pulse analysis show exactly where support is needed.
- Microcurrent enhanced with photobiomodulation offers robust support.
- PEMF offers additional stimulation both on and off body.
- Proprietary bio-signatures guide the body toward optimal function.
- Dual sets of built-in electrodes expand usage options.

Infoceuticals

- Help to restore the human body-field to its optimal blueprint.
- Support the body's functions for optimal wellness.

Uncovering the Human Body-Field

Frontier science reveals the existence of a regulating body-field—an intricate network of energy and information operating at the sub-cellular level. At Energy4Life, we term this the human body-field and have spent over 30 years researching its functions and structures.

Key Insights:

Root Causes: We've identified that physical issues often originate from distortions and blockages in the body-field, which acts as the master control system for all bodily functions.

Restoring Harmony: Our Bioenergetic Wellness System corrects these distortions, allowing the body-field to support optimal physiological function more effectively.

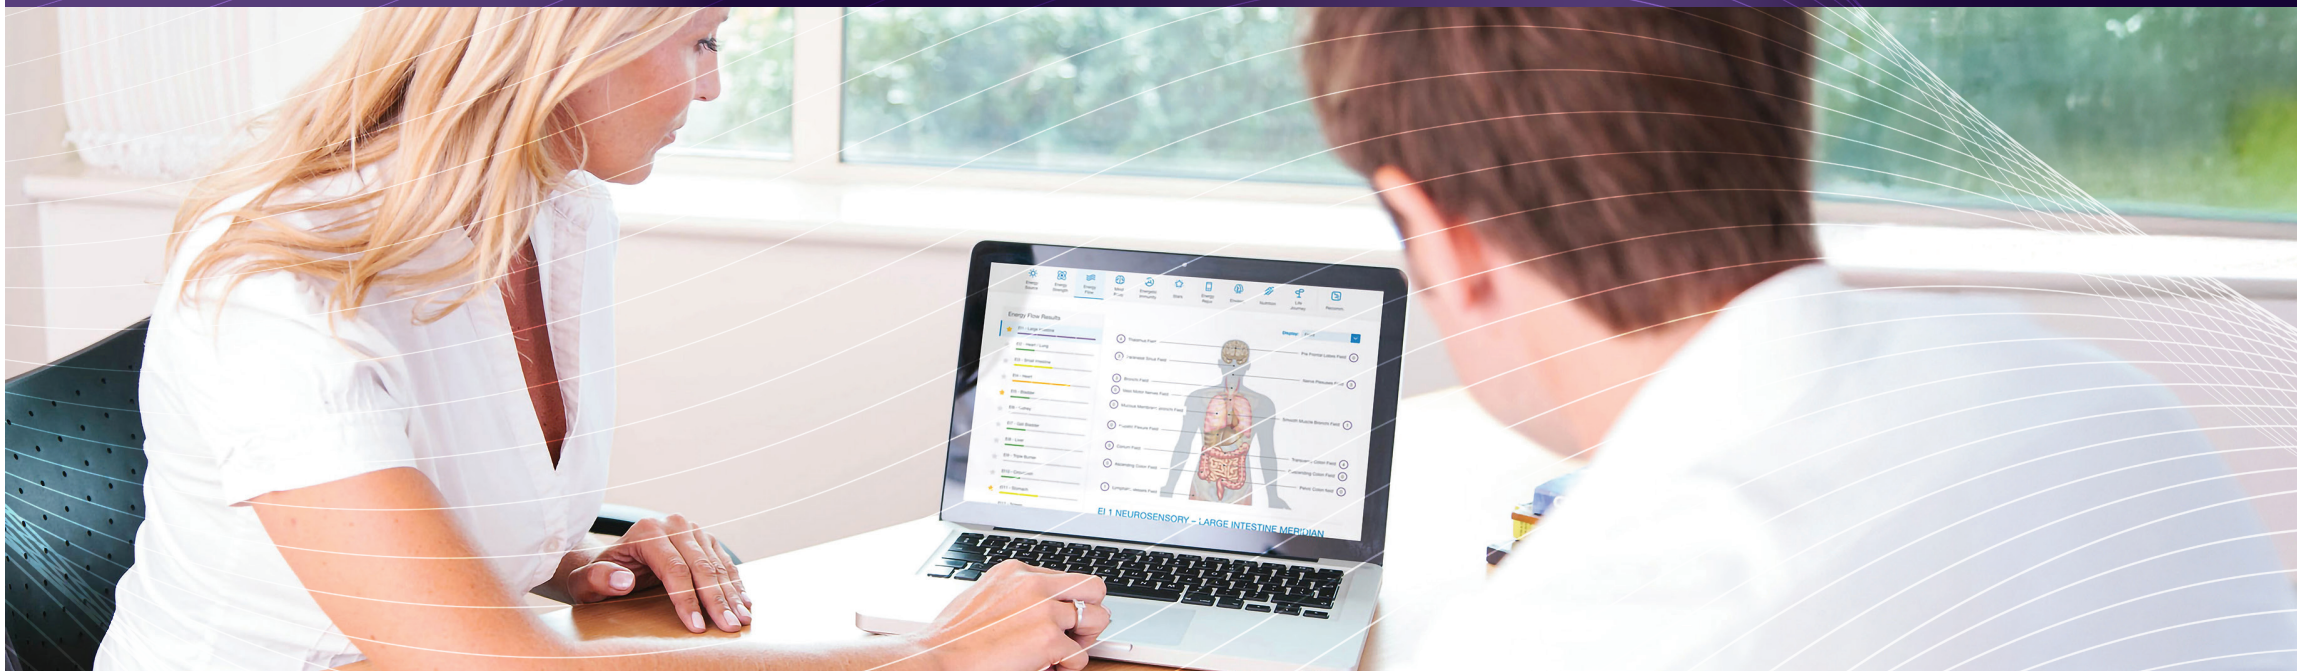

Pioneering Expertise: Founded by Harry Massey and the late Peter Fraser, Energy4Life is a global leader in bioenergetics, focusing on the study, detection, and correction of energy flow in living systems.

Energy4Life's research into the human body-field uncovers how energy blockages affect health at the sub-cellular level. Our Bioenergetic Wellness System restores balance, optimizing the body-field's support for overall function. Energy4Life continues to lead the way in advancing wellness through the study of bioenergetics.

ENERGY4LIFE Bioenergetic Wellness System

Step One

Assess the human body-field with custom scanning software

Scanning Software

A Bioenergetic Wellness System (BWS) scan returns a detailed overview of your body-field, including multiple screens and physiologically accurate graphics.

In a matter of seconds, a scan can pinpoint energetic distortions, giving you clear instructions to support your health – starting at the very root.

Step Two

Rejuvenate and unblock energetic distortions

miHealth

Using bioresponsive microcurrent enhanced with photobiomodulation and PEMF (Pulsed Electromagnetic Frequencies) therapies, the miHealth clears pathways for energy and information to flow through the body properly, providing quick support.

The BWS scanning software recommends specific miHealth settings to use.

Step Three

Imprint the information of the body's control system

Infoceuticals

Infoceutical are liquids imprinted with proprietary bio-information. They are recommended on the basis of your unique BWS scan results and interact directly with the human body-field to support proper energy and information flow.

The easy-to-follow protocol recommends specific Infoceuticals and how to take them.
